Most art enrichment programs in our public school system have suffered tremendous cutbacks in terms of quality, quantity and supplies. Monart School of Art brings back a renewed focus on the importance of art education for students of all ages. We teach students to focus, concentrate and problem solve as they re-train their brains to slow down and really process what they are seeing. These life skills teach students to think ‘outside the box’ and that it’s okay to do something different and build self-esteem along the way. Our program has been around for 30 years and has gained the attention and endorsement of leading educators at Harvard University.

Monart is offering a special discount for students who sign up for the next two terms. There are 8 weeks left in the Winter Term (January 4-February 27) weekly classes. Our Spring Term starts March 1-May 29th. Curriculum changes every term.
